MAL. JOSEPH E. DWYER.

one of San Antonio's Most Popular Citizens Suddenly Passes Away!

San Antonio, September 15.—Major Joseph E. Dwyer, one of the best known and most influential democrats in Texas, died yesterday Sunday afternoon from a complication of heart trouble and cerebral fever. His death was sudden and totally unexpected, he having been but slightly sick since Thursday evening. Major Dwyer was but forty-two years old. He served with distinction in the confederate army as captain on the staff of Gen. Sibley. In 1858, under the administration, he was elected to the state senate, serving one term. He was a delegate to the national democratic convention in 1860, held at Chicago, and was a member of three committees to inform presidential nominees of their nomination. At the last congressional convention held in New Braunfels, he was unanimously chosen as chairman of the democratic executive committee, and was also chairman of the Bexar county committee up to the time of his death. He was a man of great energy and charm, of the highest social position. He leaves an interesting family of six and three children, in good circumstances. All loved him for his amiable disposition, Christian charity and unblemished character.

RECTOR'S SCORE:

It is Started at the "Straight-and-Easy" Wing of the Texas Republicans.

Austin, September 15.—Judge John B. Rector, who was nominated a few days since by the republican convention at San Antonio, for congress, against Major J. S. Sayers, created a flutter of political excitement here this evening by openly declaring that he had withdrawn his nomination. He says he sought an election and renomination at the state convention to give the party a chance to elect him.

He wants to run on the Wash. Jones ticket as an "independent," hoping by this species of duplicity to headwink the democratic and greenbacks of the tenth congressional district, and obtain a large share of their support.

The political skirmishes are to-night beginning at his home, and will end with a duel between him and Sayers.

He is a man opposed to the party.

They are to a man opposed to him, and will probably hold another convention and place Marshal Goshling of San Antonio on the ticket. Rector is now effectively "laid out" in this section, the republicans are split up and hopelessly divided, and Sayers will hereafter have plain sailing for the position vacated by Hen. John Hancock.

DISGRACEFUL ADJOURNMENT:

A Revenue Official Deserts his Wife in Order to Derive a Contingent Texas Gift.

Austin, Sept. 15.—Dan Jones, deputy revenue collector of Marshall, Tex., was recently lodged in our county jail on a charge of deserting his wife and three children, and eloping with an unmarried female named Miss Sallie Knight, whose family reside near Marshall. Much sympathy is felt for the unfortunate wife and little ones of the Joneses, and the girls of the town, and if this case be charged done will naturally do some service for the state or county of which he is the hero is brought to action.

FOR WORLD FEASTS:

Political clubs should be beaten into extinction.

For Waco, September 15.—A meeting of the Tarrant county medical society was held tonight at Dr. A. L. Cooper's office, and considerable business pertaining to the organization was transacted.

The public schools for the fall and winter session opened here today, and were very largely attended.

Aspirants for the office of county attorney entered a limited and exacting field of competition.

It was a free-for-all race, and brought out a good deal of political discussion, each of the candidates voted himself the "coming man."

PARTIES POLLUTED:

Democratic Demonstration, And Establishing a Young Men's Club.

Paris, Tex., September 15.—We will have a grand democratic rally and polarization here next Saturday. General Coke, Hubbard, Hale, and others with Calhoun and Barns have all been invited, and will probably be on hand. An immense gathering is anticipated.

Steps are being taken to organize a young men's literary club here, and there is every prospect of a gratifying success.

Buck Hill, September 16.—The remains of Marion Tongue, killed in an alteration yesterday by Mait. Frier, Sr., at Abbott (on the Missouri Pacific railroad) were today interred with Masonic honors. A large cortegue followed the remains to their last resting place. The unfortunate occurrence by which the deceased met his death, and for which I am now behind the bars, is regretted very keenly in this section, where both parties have many friends.

BALLS VANQUISHES GALVESTON, and Fort Worth Burns Houston.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 15.—The first game of three league games of base ball here, between the Galvestonians and Dallasites, of the city, was played last evening at Brown stockade. The Brown stockade won first to bat and led off with taking on Curry's balls; an easy miss by Ingram at third and a wild throw to first completed the demolition of the Galvestonians, from which they did not recover till Dallas scored their first runnings. The Galvestonians put in one run to their credit, and in the fifth inning added two more on errors. Dallas failed to tally after the first inning, and the close of the game resulted in a score of 4 to 3 in favor of Dallas. The game was characterized by errors and wild playing, which good work failed to counteract. Runs earned were 10, and Dallas were favored by home runs. A large crowd was in attendance.

Houston, Tex., Sept. 15.—The largest crowd of the season gathered the first appearance of the Fort Worth baseball club to-day. After an indifferent contest on the part of the home nine, the game resulted in favor of Fort Worth by a score of 10 to 3.

Arrangements have been completed for a game between Fort Worth and Dallas next Thursday. The game is to decide the play-off at Dallas.

San Francisco, September 15.—The San Fran baseball team, which has been here for the past month, played its last game with Hong Kong, due up to August 14th and Yokohama up to August 30th. International ball reached Canton of brilliant innovations in the Kiang Si province. The news came from Ning Tak, the chief centre of the pottery manufacture, and one of the four great cities of the empire, that the roads leading to the frontier had been closed for six months. The roads leading to the frontier, in the interior, were swept away, and whole towns were washed away, so that no one could cross them.

It was feared pestilence would follow. The cholera has broken out, but number of deaths is not given. Several parts are declared infected.

It is stated the price paid for the international vessel sold as an armament to China Merchants Navigation Co. to the American Co. was five-quarters million taels, or six-quarter million dollars, which will not return par value to the proprietors.
